Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. Legislative declaration. (1) The general assembly finds that:

(a) For the class of 2017, only twenty-three percent of students who had been in foster care at any time during high school graduated on time;

(b) Half of Colorado students in foster care change schools at least once, and often several times, each year;
(c) Multiple school transitions create gaps in a student's knowledge and create barriers to educational attainment;

(d) Improving educational stability is likely to increase the four-year graduation rate;

(e) A University of Northern Colorado study found that when a student has three or more moves during high school, the odds of the student exiting without a credential are greater than the odds of graduating;

(f) In 2008, Colorado was among the first eleven states to enter into the Interstate Compact on Educational Opportunity for Military Children, which removes barriers to high school graduation for youth in military families;

(g) Foster youth often experience even more school changes than military youth and would benefit from similar protections; and

(h) It is imperative to remove barriers to the educational success of students in foster care due to frequent moves and lack of continuity in education.

(2) Therefore, the general assembly declares that implementing a policy that ensures flexibility and cooperation between the education system, child welfare system, and families and students is necessary to ensure that students in foster care and other highly mobile student populations achieve educational success.
